Trinity College.

THIS College has no medical, law, divinity, or other professional school or department connected with it; but is intended to give a Liberal Education, adapted to fit young men to enter most advantageously upon the study of the Learned Professions after graduation. By a Liberal Education is meant a non-professional education, conducted without reference to any future particular profession, calling, or special pursuit on the part of the student in question, and designed not to make men specially clergymen, lawyers, physicians, soldiers, merchants, or engineers, but so to train and educate the mental faculties as to put them into their most efficient condition, and to qualify a student to enter with success upon the study of any of the professions, or upon any other pursuit in life.

Expenses.

The amount of the Treasurer's bills each year is as follows:

Tuition,	$100.00
Room-rent for each person, from $100.00 to	25.00
Incidentals,	30.00
Heat,	12.50
Total from $242.00 to	$167.50

Board is furnished in the College Dining-hall at $4.50 per week. Students may obtain board at private houses in the neighborhood, at rates greater or less as they may desire. To this must be added laundry charges, together with the expense of books, furniture, clothing, travel, and society fees, which vary according to the taste and habits of the student, and of which no estimate can be given.

Scholarships.

The amount of the Treasurer's bills can be considerably reduced to holders of scholarships. The income of these scholarships, which are of different values, is placed to the credit of students of limited means, and serves to meet the charges for tuition and room-rent in whole or in part.

For holders of scholarships remitting the entire charges for tuition and room-rent, the Treasurer's bill is reduced to $42.50; and the necessary expenses of such students, including board and other personal items, will not exceed $250 or $300 a year.

Rooms and Buildings.

The new buildings were commenced in 1875. They are thoroughly drained, well ventilated, and unsurpassed for convenience and comfort. In 1881 the Northam gateway was begun, and the western side of the great quadrangle is now completed. Easy access from the city is secured by means of street-cars running to the College grounds. An excellent athletic ground is provided for ball playing and other out-door sports; there are also several tennis courts, and an excellent gymnasium. The rooms are arranged so as to provide for two students rooming together, a common study, and separate bed-rooms. They are heated by steam and lighted by gas, and ventilation is secured by open fire-places. Water is carried to every floor.

The site of the building is remarkable for its healthfulness.

New Buildings.

THE GYMNASIUM AND ALUMNI HALL.

The new Gymnasium and Alumni Hall (or Theatre) stands to the east of the proposed north quadrangle near the drive-way from Vernon Street, and faces the west.

It is substantially built of brick laid in red mortar, with a finish of Portland sandstone. The frontage is fifty-six feet, and the length one hundred and six feet. The entrance is at the level of the running track of the gymnasium; from the vestibule ample stairways lead down to the latter and up to the theatre, which has a seating capacity of 500. The equipment of the gymnasium embraces modern apparatus, and the latest patent appliances in this department. An instructor in athletics is in charge of the building.

"The Jarvis Hall of Science."

This building is built of brick in early French Romanesque style, and is two stories high with a basement, having a frontage of seventy-nine feet, and a depth of sixty-five feet. The angles of the building are emphasized by large ventilating turrets, which not only serve a practical purpose, but add greatly to the breadth of the wall-mass. The main object in constructing this building has been to make ample provisions for laboratory work in chemistry and physics. The physical laboratory will be equipped with a dynamo and engine, and the rooms have been arranged with special reference to making facilities for practical work as complete as possible. The equipment in the chemical laboratory is such as is required for good work in qualitative and quantitative analysis and assaying.

Catalogues.

Catalogues and Examination Papers may be had on application to the Secretary of the Faculty. For Scholarships and general information, application should be made to the President, George Williamson Smith, D.D.

Editorial.

NCE more the IVY has the pleasure of appearing before the public in its capacity as mirror of college life. Should you recognize among its pages many a familiar engraving and organization, do not be disgusted. Recollect that these organizations are the very stock-roots and parent-stem of the plant—that they are deeply embedded in the life of the college, and that it is from these she draws her nourishment and ability—to put forth new shoots and leaves, which shall bear pleasure and amusement wherever these leaves may fall.

We have labored hard and earnestly at our task. We have spared neither time nor money in collecting new "cuts" and material which might enable us to produce a successful and interesting IVY. If we fear the result, it is not from comparison with former IVY's, but rather from apprehension that our work may fall below that high standard which has always characterized our class.

The past year has witnessed no very startling events in the history of the college. There have been no changes in the faculty, although at one time we were threatened with the loss of our president, but the entreaties of his friends and his own interest in the welfare of the college, spared us that misfortune.

The number of students is greater than ever before, and we feel authorized in asserting that a new era of growth and prosperity has dawned upon Trinity, which will increase as time goes on.

In athletics we have more than held our own. Several college records were broken by the athletic team of last year, and the history of this year's eleven is such that any college might point to with pride.

The record of the base-ball team was something of a disappointment to the college, but until we behold the erection of our long delayed "annex," we can hardly expect to compete with other college nines on anything like an equal footing.

The saddest event of college life is saying good-bye, and it is with no exception to that rule that we make our farewells to the class of '89.

During three happy years of college life her members have been our constant companions and friends, sometimes our rivals but never our enemies. We bid them God speed and wish them the greatest prosperity and success in whatever careers they may choose.

And now, with the hope that our friends will pardon our shortcomings, and that they will be able to read in these pages that which they alone attempt to delineate, a faithful representation of college life at Trinity, we intrust the care of the IVY to the class of '91.

Requirements for Admission.

I. COURSE IN ARTS.

Candidates for admission to the Freshman Class are examined in the following books:

GREEK.

Grammar (Hadley or Goodwin).

Xenophon: Anabasis, four Books.

Homer: Iliad, three Books, with Prosody.

Prose Composition (Jones or White: the exercises in the first half of the book).

History of Greece.

[The translation of average passages, not previously read, from Xenophon and Homer, will be accepted as an alternative to the above-mentioned quantities in these authors.]

LATIN.

Grammar.

Caesar: Gallic War, four Books.

Virgil: Aeneid, six Books, with Prosody.

Cicero: the Orations against Catiline, and that for the Poet Archias.

Prose Composition: Translation into Latin of a passage of connected English narrative, based upon some passage in Caesar's Gallic War.

Roman History: Outlines, to the death of Marcus Aurelius (Creighton).

Ancient Geography.

Candidates are also examined at sight upon average passages from Caesar's works, from Virgil's Aeneid and Ovid's Metamorphoses, and from Cicero's Orations.

MATHEMATICS.

Arithmetic, including the Metric System.

Algebra, through Radicals and Quadratic Equations, together with Proportion, Progressions, and the Binomial Theorem.

Plane Geometry.

ENGLISH.

Each candidate is required to write a short English composition, correct in spelling, punctuation, grammar, division by paragraphs, and expression, upon a subject announced at the time of the examination. In 1889 the subject will be chosen from the following works: Shakespeare's Julius Caesar and As You Like It; Johnson's Lives of Swift and Gray; Thackeray's English Humorists; Swift's Gulliver's Travels; Gray's Elegy; Miss Austen's Pride and Prejudice; Scott's Rob Roy and Marmion.

Each candidate will also be required to criticise specimens of English composition.

NOTE.—The works from which the subject of the composition will be chosen in the following years are:

In 1890: Shakespeare's Julius Caesar and Midsummer Night's Dream; Coleridge's Ancient Mariner; Longfellow's Evangeline; Macaulay's Essay on Lord Clive; Thackeray's English Humorists; Webster's First Bunker Hill Oration; Scott's Quentin Durward; George Eliot's Silas Marner; Hawthorne's House of the Seven Gables.

In 1891: Shakespeare's Julius Caesar and Merchant of Venice; Coleridge's Ancient Mariner; Longfellow's Evangeline; Macaulay's Essay on Lord Clive; Webster's First Bunker Hill Oration; Irving's Alhambra; Scott's Old Mortality; George Eliot's Silas Marner; Hawthorne's House of the Seven Gables.

In 1892: Shakespeare's Julius Caesar and As you Like it; Scott's Marion; Longfellow's Courtship of Miles Standish; Addison's Sir Roger de Coverly Papers; Macaulay's Second Essay on the Earl of Chatham; Webster's First Bunker Hill Oration; Irving's Alhambra; Scott's Talisman; George Eliot's Scenes from Clerical Life; Hawthorne's House of the Seven Gables.

II. COURSE IN LETTERS AND SCIENCE.

The requirements for admission are the same as in the Course in Arts, with the omission of Greek and extempore Latin translation.

III. COURSE IN SCIENCE.

Candidates for the Course in Science are examined in Mathematics and in English as for the Course in Arts, with the addition of Algebra from Progressions to the Theory of Equations, Solid Geometry, and Plane Trigonometry, and Trench's Study of Words (Supplées edition); also in the History of the United States, and in six books of Caesar's Gallic War (or three books of Caesar and three books of Virgil's Aeneid), together with Latin Grammar and the elements of Latin Composition.

IV. COURSE IN LETTERS.

The requirements for admission are the same as in the Course in Arts, with the omission of Greek.

Copies of papers used at the Examinations in 1888 are printed at the end of the Catalogue, copies of which may be had on application to the President or Secretary of the Faculty.

Burning of Analytics.

MAY 3, '88.

The Christmas term of every year as it revolveth by,
Bringeth to Sophomores, alas, full many a heartfelt sigh,
Because to Anna Lytic's curves and tangents and cosines,
They all fall victims, sad, but true, by flunking many times.

We met her early in the fall, we hated her at sight,
In seeking how to flee her snares, we've sat up all the night.
While she herself with 'witching smile allured us on to death,
With hellish glee she gloated over our expiring breath.

She was a fury grim and stern, her eyes were lit with fire,
She trapped us and ensnared us; she turned our brains to mire.
Gave us equations hard and deep, which no man now could do,
She, unrelenting, worked us hard, we did but flunk anew.

In vain we tried, in vain we cribbed, in vain we worked the roll,
In every case her flamen put a zero on his scroll.
And when examinations came, and with her then we toiled
To hit the necessary mark, full many a man she foiled.

But now the fight is ended, with Anna second best,
Our "rolls" and "cribs" accomplished part; our brains did all the rest.
And there she lies before us, beyond all earthly aid,
Her bones are snapping in the fire, her furious course is stayed.

No more parabolas and curves and other foolish things
Will come before us while we sleep, nor on our thoughts put wings.
No more shall we with gloomy heart before the blackboard stand,
The nearest book ten feet away, and naught but chalk in hand.

No more for us the careworn face, no more the midnight oil,
No more the four and twenty hours of wearing, useless toil,
No more for us to prove and swear that x square equals y ,
The fell destroyer is destroyed, her ashes fill the sky.

Her vertices and normals, her assymptotes and lines,
Her " y square equals four p x ," her focal chords and sines.
Equations and hyperbolas, co-ordinates and arcs,
Are all departing from our sphere in yonder cloud of sparks.

Crackle! ye flames, leap high in air, consume her while ye may,
Gnaw at her heart, ye fires! and roar, torture your fiendish prey,
Blow! all ye breezes of the earth, and lift the blaze still higher,
Rejoice! oh classmates, shout and sing, and dance about her pyre.

TUNE — Dixie.

WHEN the nineteenth century was coming to an end,
The fav'ring gods in love did send
To Trinity a class from stain and stigma free.
They call her dear old Ninety,—
X and C, Nine-ty;
Her name is dear old Ninety,
The Pride of Trin-i-ty.
Something new! Something new!
Something new! She always did.

U' ADIEU.

KIND friends, we crave your pardon, if we task
Your patience longer; yet we ask,
Before you lay aside this book, that you
Will read this short adieu.

Happy the one whose life is blest
With memories so sweet, that ever o'er
His past life he can look, and feel delight.
Through many hours of trouble and of toil,
Like leaven on his weary soul they fall,
And cheer his way.

Dark thoughts may hover o'er his struggling mind,
Despair may seize upon his waning hopes,
But as the sunbeam following the storm
Shines memory's ray.

Our college life is short; 'tis passing strange
That in four years so much of good can come
To us; and entering our lives, will elevate
And mould the characters of some

That ever through life's journey will they show
The benefits and pleasures therein found —
Remember oft the friends they used to know.
To such, sweet recollections ever cling
Of days long past, of friends perhaps long dead,
Of trophies won. These all will serve to bring
A smile, — perhaps a sigh.

To those whom fortune favored years ago,
Whose college life was passed in earlier days,
A pleasant help we hope this book may prove
In bringing back to them their youthful ways.
To those who ne'er have trod these classic halls,
Who ne'er have mingled in our work and play,
We send this book. May it upon our life
And customs shed its faint and modest ray.
To those in college now — instructors, friends, —
We leave this modest token of esteem,
With wishes for their future that may bring
All face to face with Fortune's welcome gleam.
We trust that this small book, in after years,
A relic then, of this our time and age,
Will aid the mind in thoughts of college life; —
And recollections sweet appear on every page.

To Life Insurers.

IF YOU are a prudent man, and have money to invest in property, you will exercise due diligence to ascertain its value. You will not purchase a house or business property without examining carefully into its present and prospective value. You will want to know that the title is perfect, and is vested in the person from whom you are to receive the deed. If you purchase a horse you are careful to ascertain all about his merits and his objectionable points, if any exist. Why not then take a little time and investigate the subject of life insurance,—and know that you secure the most reliable and successful company in which to entrust the interest of your families? Nothing can be of more importance, to you and to those whom you love, than that you make a wise selection in this particular.

Ascertain, first of all, if the company soliciting your patronage has a good reputation; that it has age and experience; that it is doing a conservative, yet an active business; that its contracts are liberal, and that its dealings are honorable. It is important that you know about its resources—not so much the amount of its assets, as its surplus after providing for its liabilities. To one unfamiliar with the subject a company with the largest invested fund would appear to be the strongest, but such is not the fact. The strongest company, from a financial standpoint, is the one that has the largest relative balance after providing for its legal liabilities.

Another important matter for your consideration is the character of the organization, and the management. Have those in charge of it a pecuniary interest in the company's success? Has the company a capital stock of sufficient amount to secure, through the pecuniary interest of its stockholders and directors, that painstaking care and conservative management so important in the business?

If it is a company styling itself a "purely mutual" you may be sure that the first and paramount consideration of those in charge will be to provide liberally for themselves and their employees, for it is only by the assistance of the latter at the policyholders' expense, that these positions of the managers are retained.

Select, then, the company managed by men who are employed upon their merits, and without the aid of proxies; with a capital stock invested for the protection of the insured, and as evidence of good faith. You can obtain through such an organization (and the ÆTNA LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY of Hartford, Conn., is such a company) all the benefits of participation in the profits with none of the liabilities incident to mutual companies.

Richmond Straight Cut No. 1 CIGARETTES.

CIGARETTE SMOKERS who are willing to pay a little more than the price charged for the ordinary trade Cigarettes, will find THIS BRAND superior to all others.

Artotypes, Albertypes,
OR
Photographs in Printing Ink.

ARTOTYPES or Albertypes are printed on a printing press in printing ink, and do not fade any more than a steel engraving. We combine the Camera and the Printing Press so closely that our pictures equal the finest photographs.

While photographs are apt to fade, our Artotypes remain as permanent as any printed matter; this fact makes our process invaluable for illustrations for Books, Magazines, Catalogues, etc., etc.

We make pictures in any quantity desired, in any color and any size, and on almost any kind of paper, canvas, silk, satin, or any flexible material. Anything that can be photographed can be represented by our process.

We invite inspection of our portraits from life, reproductions from drawings, paintings, old manuscripts, landscapes, architectural views, pictures for medical, scientific, manufacturing, and mercantile purposes, etc.

Estimates furnished on application.

GENTLEMEN :

The sample of Faust Beer lately received from you, for analysis, has in 100 parts by weight, the following composition.

Total Solid extract,	6.880
Alcohol,	3.390
Carbonic acid gas,355
Water,	89.375

100.000

Systematic search has failed to show the presence of any adulterant, and the composition is very similar to that of the best beer of Munich and Vienna.
